

Swiss made Fog

Euroluce 2011, the section of the fair dedicated to illumination, was chosen as the venue for the preview presentation of the project "La Soglia Magica" or Magic Threshold which will be officially inaugurated on the 20th of April 2011.

The new port of Milan, a luminescent threshold connecting the airport with the train station combines fine water fog with light to evoke the mysterious atmosphere of the Padana.

At the heart of this ambitious architectural and technical project, a collaboration with Artemide, global leader in illumination is the Nephos Swiss Fog technology.
